SUB/URBAN JUSTICE works year-round in schools and communities throughout the Greater Boston area to provide young people with social justice education and organizing skills. Our mission is to equip youth living in or connected to the suburbs with the skills to transform their communities toward justice. Our long-term vision is the creation of a just world.

TRANSFORMING OURSELVES

Sub/Urban Justice partners with The City School to offer a transformative six-week summer program to 100 teens from across Greater Boston area. From our opening retreat to our closing celebration, you will be learning and growing non-stop with some of the most incredible people you'll ever meet.

What will YOU get out of it?

- An amazing group of friends.
- A new perspective on everything.
- The skills to make change happen now.

"SUB/URBAN JUSTICE SHOWED ME THAT YOU CAN TAKE A RACIALLY DIVERSE GROUP OF KIDS FROM ALL OVER THE GREATER BOSTON AREA AND TURN THEM INTO A COMMUNITY. I LEARNED THAT WE ALL HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY, AND A PLACE LIKE SUB/URBAN JUSTICE IS WHERE I WOULD FEEL SAFE SHARING MY STORIES AND IDEAS."

ALREADY HAVE SUMMER PLANS?
SIGN UP FOR A PAID INTERNSHIP
RIGHT NOW.

TRANSFORMING OTHERS

As a Community Education Intern, you will:

Learn exactly how oppression and privilege impact you.

Design and deliver anti-oppression workshops for your peers.

Participate in the Speak Up! Project, an anti-racism book geared towards youth.

TRANSFORMING SYSTEMS

As a Community Organizing Intern, you will:

Learn how to change the root of the problem.

Design and lead community organizing campaigns.

In the past 12 months, our organizers have:

- Met with Governor Patrick and dozens of elected officials, registered hundreds of voters;
- Secured new funding for Youth Jobs in Boston, hosted public actions with more than 300 people in attendance;
- And learned how to be effective agents of change.

What will YOU do next?
